NOTING that Mr. Vlastimir Đorđević ("Accused") was transferred to the seat of the Tribunal on 17 June 2007, and that on 19 June 2007, at the request of the Accused and pursuant to Rule 45(C) of the Rules, the Registrar assigned Ms. Jelena Nikolić, attorney at law from Belgrade, as duty counsel to the Accused for the purposes of his initial appearance and for such other matters as necessary until a permanent counsel was assigned;

NOTING that the Accused has applied for the assignment of Tribunal-paid counsel pursuant to Articles 7 and 8 of the Directive on the basis that he does not have sufficient means to remunerate counsel;

CONSIDERING that on 15 August 2007, acting pursuant to Article 11(B) of the Directive, the Registrar assigned Mr. Dragoljub Đorđević, attorney at law from Belgrade, as lead counsel to the Accused for a period of 120 days, determining that an interim assignment of counsel was necessary to ensure that the Accused's right to counsel was not affected while the Registry examines his ability to remunerate counsel;

CONSIDERING that the Registry has extended Mr. Đorđević's assignment by 90 days on 14 December 2007, 13 March 2008, 12 June 2008 and 11 September 2008;

CONSIDERING that pursuant to Article 10(A) of the Directive, the eligibility of an accused for legal aid shall be determined by taking into account "means of all kinds of which the [...] accused has direct or indirect enjoyment or freely disposes, including but not limited to direct income, bank accounts, real or personal property, pensions, and stocks, bonds, or other assets held, but excluding any family or social benefits to which he may be entitled. In assessing such means, account shall also be taken of the means of the spouse of a [...] accused, as well as those of persons with whom he habitually resides, provided that it is reasonable to take such means into account." In accordance with Article 10(B) of the Directive, "[f]or the purpose of determining whether the [...] accused has an ownership interest in any property, the Registrar may consider the apparent lifestyle of a [...] accused, and his enjoyment of that or other property, and whether or not he derives income from it";

CONSIDERING that the Registrar determines the eligibility of an accused for legal aid in accordance with Article 10 of the Directive and the "Registry Policy for Determining the Extent to which an Accused is able to Remunerate Counsel" ("Registry Policy") which is attached as Appendix II to this Decision;

NOTING that under the Registry Policy, the Registrar first determines the disposable means of an applicant for legal aid, and then deducts from the applicant's disposable means, the estimated living expenses of the applicant and his dependents during the estimated period in which the applicant will require representation before the Tribunal, with the amount remaining being the contribution to be made by the applicant to the cost of his defence;²

CONSIDERING that in accordance with Article 10(A) of the Directive and Sections 5(a) and 9 of the Registry Policy, the equity in the Accused's principal family home is included in the Accused's disposable means to the extent that the principal family home exceeds the reasonable needs of the Accused and the persons with whom he habitually resides;³

CONSIDERING that the estimated living expenses of the Accused during the estimated period in which the Accused will require representation before the Tribunal have been calculated in accordance with Section 10 of the Registry Policy;⁷

PUBLIC APPENDIX II

REGISTRY POLICY FOR DETERMINING THE EXTENT TO WHICH AN ACCUSED IS ABLE TO REMUNERATE COUNSEL

1

Entry into force

This policy applies from 4 May 2004

2

General provisions

Without prejudice to discretion afforded by Article 8 of the Directive on Assignment of Defence Counsel ("Directive"), the Registry uses the following policy to determine the extent to which an applicant for legal aid is able to remunerate counsel. When an applicant for legal aid submits a declaration of means pursuant to Article 7(B) of the Directive, the Registry assesses the income and assets of the applicant, his spouse and the persons with whom he habitually resides. In doing so the Registry may rely on the applicant's declaration of means or undertake an inquiry into the applicant's means pursuant to Article 10 of the Directive. From the established pool of income and assets, the Registry calculates the applicant's disposable means, according to Sections 5-8 of this policy. From the disposable means, the Registry deducts the estimated living expenses of the applicant's family and dependents during the estimated period in which the applicant will require representation before the International Tribunal. The amount remaining is the contribution to be made by the applicant to his defence.

3

Legislative Authority

The legislative authority for this policy is enshrined in Articles 8 and 10 of the Directive.

The principal family home will exceed the reasonable needs of the applicant, his spouse and the persons with whom he habitually resides, if it is of greater value than the average family home in the region in which it is located. (b) the equity in furnishings contained in the principal family home and owned by the applicant, his spouse or the persons with whom he habitually resides that exceed the reasonable needs of the applicant, his spouse and the persons with whom he habitually resides. The furnishings in the principal family home will exceed the reasonable needs of the applicant, his spouse and the persons with whom he habitually resides if they are luxury items of extraordinary value, including but not limited to art collections, antique collections;

The principal family vehicle or principal family vehicles will exceed the reasonable needs of the applicant, his spouse and the persons with whom he habitually resides if their combined value is greater than the value of one average automobile in the state in which the applicant's family resides. In determining the value of the average automobile in the state in which the applicant's family resides, the Registry relies on official documentation from the governments of the republics of the former Yugoslavia;

(d) the equity in stocks, bonds or bank accounts owned by the applicant, his spouse and persons with whom he habitually resides, including but not limited to the applicant's TULP account at the United Nations Detention Unit, less allowances paid by the United Nations into that account;

Formula for calculating the extent to which the equity in the applicant's principal family home exceeds the needs of the applicant, his spouse and the persons with whom he habitually resides

Given the official data available from the governments within the republics of the former Yugoslavia, the following formula is used to determine the extent to which the applicant's principal family home exceeds the needs of the applicant, his spouse and the persons with whom he habitually resides:

$$\left(\frac{V}{LS} \times LSE \right) - EN = E$$

Where-

V represents the valuation of the principal family home obtained by the Registry;

LS represents the living space in square meters in the principal family home;

EN represents any encumbrances registered against the principal family home;

E represents the equity in the principal family home that exceeds the reasonable needs of the applicant, his spouse and the persons with whom he habitually resides. If this amount is greater than zero, it is included in the applicant's disposable means in accordance with Section 5(a);

LSE represents the living space in the principal family home that exceeds the average living space for the number of persons who habitually reside in the principal family home in the state in which it is located, according to official documentation of the governments of the republics of the former Yugoslavia. The following formula is used to calculate LSE:

$$LS - (ALS \times M) = LSE$$

Where-

ALS represents the average number of square meters of living space per person in the state in which the principal family home is located, obtained from official documentation of the governments of the republics of the former Yugoslavia;

M represents the number of persons who habitually reside in the principal family home, including the applicant, the applicant's spouse and the persons with whom he habitually resides.

Formula for calculating the estimated living expenses

The following formula is used to calculate the estimated living expenses of the applicant, his spouse, his dependents and the persons with whom he habitually resides:

$$\frac{[AE \times (M + D) + EE] \times T}{4} = ELE$$

Where-

AE represents the average monthly expenditure for a four-person household, obtained from official documentation of the governments of the republics of the former Yugoslavia. The index includes accommodation and living costs;

EE represents additional monthly living expenses of the applicant, his spouse, his dependents and the persons with whom he habitually resides. These additional living expenses are expenses that are particular to the applicant, his spouse, his dependents and the persons with whom he habitually resides and are accordingly not foreseen in the AE index. Additional living expenses will include but not be limited to tuition fees and the costs of extraordinary medical care.

M represents the number of people who habitually reside in the principal family home, including the applicant, the applicant's spouse and the persons with whom he habitually resides;

D represents the applicant's dependents who do not habitually reside in the principal family home;

T represents the period from when the Registry issues its decision on the extent to which an applicant is able to remunerate counsel until the conclusion of the estimated period in which the applicant will require representation before the International Tribunal at the pre-trial, trial or appeals stage;

ELE represents the estimated living expenses for the applicant, his spouse, his dependents and the persons with whom he habitually resides, during the period from when the Registry issues its decision on the extent to which an applicant is able to remunerate counsel until the conclusion of the estimated period in which the applicant will require representation before the International Tribunal at the pre-trial, trial or appeals stage.

Formula for calculating the extent to which an applicant is able to remunerate counsel

The following formula is used to calculate the extent to which an applicant is able to remunerate counsel:

$$\mathbf{DM - ELE = C}$$

Where-

DM represents the applicant's disposable means as calculated under Sections 5-8;

ELE represents the estimated living expenses for the applicant, his spouse, his dependents and the persons with whom he habitually resides as calculated under Section 10;

C represents the contribution to be made by the applicant to his defence.

12

Deduction of Contribution

The Registry shall deduct the value of the contribution from defence team allotments.
